In October, 1854, Dr. Bonwill commenced the practice of dentistry in Dover, Del. His previous experience in the mechanical industries was now of great service to him, enabling him with little expense to make all the necessary appurtenances of his office and laboratory. Thus, as he was proud to narrate, with one suit of clothes and 3 in my pocket, he entered upon a professional career in which he won the admiration and confidence of his associates, and a competency for himself and family. In 1866 he graduated from the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery, and subsequently received the degree of M. D. from the Jefferson Medical College. In 1871 he removed to Philadelphia, believing that the larger city would offer better opportunities...
